

the great corporate interests that stand behind him. But there is not a particle of truth in the statement as regards anything that has gone on in the management of the Republican campaign.

ACCUSATIONS MONSTRIOUS.
Mr. Parker's accusations against Mr. Cortelyou and myself are monstrous. If true, they would brand both of us forever with infamy, and, for as long as they are false, heavy must be the condemnation of the man making them.

I chose Mr. Cortelyou as chairman of the National Committee after failing successively to persuade Elihu Root, W. Murray Crane and Cornelius N. Bliss to accept the position. I chose him with extreme reluctance because I could ill spare him from the Cabinet. But I felt that he possessed the high integrity which I demanded in the man who was to manage my campaign. I am content that Mr. Parker or I should be judged by the public on the character of the two men whom we chose to manage our campaign, be by the character of his nominee, Thomas Taggart, and I by the character of Mr. Cortelyou.

DEMOCRATIC FAULTS.
The assertion that Mr. Cortelyou had any knowledge gained while in official position, solely by being enabled to secure and did secure any contributions from any corporation is a falsehood.

The assertion that there has been any blackmail, direct or indirect, by Mr. Cortelyou or by me is a falsehood.

The assertion that there has been made in behalf of and by authorization of Mr. Cortelyou or by anyone else, any pledge or promise or that there has been any understanding as to future immunities or benefits in recognition of any contribution from any source, is a wicked falsehood.

PARKER LACKS IN HONOR.

That Mr. Parker should desire to avoid the discussion of principles is well understood, for it is but the bare truth to say that he has not attacked us on any matter of principle or upon any action of the government, save after first mistaking that principle or that action. But I cannot understand how any honorable man, a candidate for the highest office in the gift of the people can take refuge, not merely in personalities, but in such base and unworthy personalities.

If I deemed it necessary to support my flat denial by any evidence, I would ask all men of common sense to ponder well what has been done in this campaign by Mr. Cortelyou and to compare it with what Mr. Parker himself did when he was managing Mr. Hill's campaign for Governor, and to compare what has been done as regards the great corporations and money interests in this administration with what was done under the last Democratic administration while Mr. Otis was Attorney-General. I would ask all honest men whether they really deem it possible that the course this administration has taken in every matter from the Northern Securities suit to the settlement of the anthracite coal strike is compatible with any theory of public behavior which the theory of doing exact justice to all men without fear and without favoritism; I would ask all honest and fair-minded men to remember that the agents through whom I have conducted this campaign and Mr. Moody in the Department of Justice; Mr. Cortelyou in the Department of Commerce and Labor, and Mr. G. Field in the Bureau of Corporations; and that no such act of infamy as Mr. Parker charges could have been done without all these men being parties to it.

The statements made by Mr. Parker are unqualified and atrociously false. As Mr. Cortelyou has said to me more than once during this campaign, if elected, I shall go into the Presidency unhampered by any pledge, promise or understanding of any kind save my promise made to the American people, that so far as in my power lies I shall see to it that every man has a "square deal," no less and no more.

PARKER WILL RESPOND.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The statement issued by the President in Washington and the speech of Gov. Odell in New York tonight, in which the Governor made certain charges against the Democratic candidate for President, were shown to Parker at a late hour tonight. He had decided not to make any more speeches during this campaign, but, after reading the President's statement and the Governor's speech, announced that he would make a reply, which will be delivered before the Kings County Democratic Club tomorrow night. Parker would make no comment on the statement and speech tonight.

The President Scores Another Diplomatic Success.

Navy Yard Machinists Reach Wage Agreement.

IST DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Negotiations have been initiated for a treaty of arbitration between Germany and the United States. Several days ago the President suggested to Baron Sternberg, the German Ambassador, that a treaty of arbitration between the United States and Germany would, in his judgment, be a great success.

Late this afternoon Ambassador Sternberg called upon the President and informed him that the German government had expressed itself as entirely agreeable to the President's proposition, and that he had been directed to open formal negotiations for such a treaty. These negotiations will be conducted by Ambassador Sternberg on the part of Germany and Secretary Hay for the United States.

RAILROADS IN PHILIPPINES.

AMERICAN LAW APPLYING.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The cabinet statement from Manila that the Philippine Commission has passed an act establishing the right of eminent domain for railroads in the Philippines is explained at the Insular Bureau here by pointing to the fact that the Manila-Dagupan Railroad has projected a line from Manila to Dagupan, a distance of 100 miles, and a summer resort in the hill country. Much difficulty has been experienced in the right of way for this branch line and the Philippine Commission has finally agreed to adopt the American law providing for condemnation of individual property which stands in the way of public improvement.

LAWLESSNESS IN MOROCCO.

MANY SERIOUS DISTURBANCES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Consul General Hoffman Philip reports to the State Department from Tangier by mail under date of October 19 that Morocco, particularly in the northern part, there appears to be an increasing tendency toward lawlessness and a refusal to obey the American law.

From the south, where the people here have been more loyal than in any other part of the country, there has been much serious disturbance. Fighting has taken place between two powerful tribes in the village of Agadir, a city, one chief having been placed in control of a large section of the country by order of the Sultan, and the other rebelling against being superseded and refusing to obey the Sultan's command.

The followers of the Pretender have renewed their activity in the north and there has been much fighting in the neighborhood of the French frontier. The important town of Agadir has been taken and is reported to have been taken by the rebels owing to the weakness of the Sherifian forces.

Peace remains quiet, but there is great unrest in the region surrounding Tangier. A part of the numerous mountain tribes of Beni M'sowar, reported allies of France, the unpunished abductor of Ferdinand, made a raid on a village in the Agadir district about ten miles from Tangier; several villages in the neighborhood went to the aid of the Sultan, and the raiders driven off. Similar disturbances occur at intervals throughout this region, the hill tribes being the aggressors. The roads are generally closed to traffic.

There are as yet no evidences of French intervention to assist in the restoration of order.

GEN. ANDRE'S FACE SLAPPED.

The French Minister of War Victim of Assault.

Very Stormy and Heated Session of Deputies.

Debate Regarding Spying Upon Army Officers.

IST DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

PARIS, Nov. 4.—Today's sitting of the Chamber of Deputies was one of the stormiest and most heated in recent years, the excitement culminating when Gabriel Syveton, a prominent Nationalist, stepped up to Gen. Andre, Minister of War, and slapped his face.

After accomplishing this feat Syveton retreated rapidly to the uppermost row of seats, taking advantage of the confusion of the opposition.

A tumult ensued, members of both parties crowding on the floor of the chamber, where a free fight was soon in progress. Speaker Brisson left the chair, thus suspending the sitting. Eventually order was restored, and the sitting being resumed, Syveton's temporary exclusion was voted. The offender, however, refused to quit his seat and it became necessary to suspend the sitting while he was removed by a military guard.

It is probable that this incident, which occurred just before the final division, materially contributed to strengthen the position of the majority, which at one time seemed very critical.

At midnight the officials of the Chamber of Deputies, assembled in Speaker Brisson's private cabinet, were still discussing the course of action to be taken regarding Deputy Syveton.

Deputies who witnessed the assault upon the Minister of War, and the speaker, were wholly taken by surprise and were struck with such violence that he would have fallen had not Premier Combes stepped forward and supported him.

Gen. Andre's face was much swollen and was cut by a ring worn by Syveton.

Speaker Brisson has notified the judicial authority that an assault upon a member committed within the precincts of the chamber.

WHAT BROUGHT IT ON.

The debate, which was a sequel to that of last Friday, was opened by the Nationalist Deputy, Guy du Villavie, who pointed out that the Minister of War had declared that the system of a system of spying on the private lives of officers was proven by the evidence of the French government.

He claimed that the facts were not established and therefore it was impossible to believe that the French government was engaged in such a system of spying.

He further declared that he had not received instructions from Police Captain Kowatzky, who was appointed to investigate the matter, and he denied the statement, saying:

"I told you to serve out half cartons of tobacco to the soldiers, but you carried a house down, enabling them to pass through the lines of the army."

Dr. Alexander testified to the intense fear feeling at Gomet, no Jews were admitted to the Gomet, no Jews were admitted to the Gomet.

THE CASE OF TICHBORNE.

Adj.-Gen. Lauck and Gov. Pardee Give Views.

'Civil Action Only Remedy for San Diego Guardsman.

Unionist's "Practical" Joke Fatal to His Friend.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 4.—Adj.-Gen. Lauck was asked today whether anything had yet been done, or whether anything was likely to be done, in regard to the case of Charles Tichborne, the San Diego plumber, who has been expelled and boycotted by the local Journeymen Plumbers' Association because he is a member of and an officer in the National Guard.

"I was interviewed about this once before," said Gen. Lauck, "but what I said was misunderstood. What I desired to be understood as saying was that I had tried hard enough, and that I had not succeeded in finding a law which fitted the case, and that it looked as though a civil suit would be the only remedy." Also, I said that I very much regretted that any organization should take such action against the National Guard as the San Diego plumbers have taken, but much as I could see no way in which I could interfere, while I am anxious and willing to all come to take up and support the cause of either officers or men of the National Guard, in any way possible, I am compelled to go according to law. Now this is all I care to say, and if you want anything more, you must see the Governor, who is the Commander-in-Chief of the National Guard of the State."

GOV. PARDEE'S COMMENT.

Gov. Pardee, when spoken to, said: "When I heard about the Tichborne case I thought that a wrong had been done, and I directed that the law should be looked up to see what we could do to set Tichborne right. I assumed that there must be some legal

"I am sorry to have to say now that we have not been able to find any statute under which the expulsion and boycotting of the young man can be made a public offense, but I am sure that if we could find such a law, we would apply it to this case. No one can be expelled from a union or association unless the law has made the doing of that thing a public offense, and I have particularly in mind the act as a criminal conspiracy, and there is no law in California which says that trying to intimidate a person from belonging to the National Guard is a crime, or his designation as such nature as a criminal conspiracy."

CIVIL ACTION A REMEDY.

"I am speaking, of course, entirely of criminal prosecutions. There is, no doubt, a civil remedy, because I believe the National Guard can institute suit for damages which he has sustained by being expelled and boycotted, and I believe in this National Guard case, that this is something which only the law can remedy, and I believe that the law cannot initiate a civil suit for it."

"I am now while I am on the subject, I want to say a word which will leave no doubt where I stand on the main issue. I believe in the National Guard, and I think it is the duty of all patriotic men to sustain it in all proper ways."

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Snacks Again.

E. C. Lockhart of No. 912 East Twenty-fifth street reported stolen from his residence $10 in coin and a small gold watch. Snacks thieves entered the house during the absence of members of the family.

Moving the Zoo.

The animals at Eastlake Park will be moved to their new quarters at 2 p.m. today. Ed Rabe, superintendent of the animal department of the park, will be in charge. The Mayor, the Park commissioners and others will attend.

Egyptian Entertainers.

M. K. H. Bakhat of Cairo, Egypt, who is here for the purpose of studying modern irrigation methods in use in California, entertained at dinner last night at the Angelus a fellow-countryman, Sayed Mehrem, and his wife, of No. 748 South Flower street.

Verdict of Suicide.

Coroner Trout held an inquest yesterday afternoon at Orr & Hines' morgue over the body of Annie Sande, a widow, who strangled herself Wednesday night at her home, No. 198 Van Ness avenue, by knotting a towel around her neck. She was despondent because of ill health. The jury returned a verdict of death by suicide.

Philippine Vets.

The California Society of the Army of the Philippines enjoyed a smoker at the quarters in No. 312 South Olive street, and listened to a talk by Col. C. M. Moore of the First Colorado Infantry. The next meeting will be held November 18, and the subject of discussion will be "Whitman's Advance North and the Rescue of Lieut. Gilmore's Party."

Girls' Bazaar.

All is now in readiness for the bazaar and lawn fete which the Maria Louise Society of Little Girls has been so busily planning, and which takes place this afternoon. Already the grounds are all inclosed and the booths up in readiness. The little white-capped girls fly hither and thither in subdued excitement. The children are contributing themselves to the success of their scheme, for already 1939 tickets have been sold.

Billiard Cue for Weapon.

T. Dosant, Pero Bukovic and Andrew Bukovic, Italians, got into a row yesterday afternoon in the San Gabriel saloon on San Fernando street, with disastrous results to Dosant. The other beat him over the head with the butt end of a billiard cue, inflicting ugly gashes that later were sewed up in the Receiving Hospital. The Bukovics were arrested by Patrolman Banks, and will be charged either with assault and battery or assault to murder.

Trial of the Gerns.

Tired of life and thinking the game was worth trying any further, Mrs. Mayne Lacey of No. 312 South Olive street made a futile attempt at suicide early last evening. Mrs. Lacey was formerly employed as a waitress at "Dad's lunch counter" on Broadway but left her position two days ago. She had been despondent for several weeks and had frequently announced to her friends that she intended to end her existence. Her attention was paid to her throat. H. C. Crenshaw, a friend of the woman, who is also employed at "Dad's place," called at the Olive street house about 8:30 p.m. and found Mrs. Lacey preparing to swallow the contents of a bottle labeled cyanide. He rushed her to the Receiving Hospital, where Dr. Freedman worked over her for an hour but failed to find any symptoms of poisoning.

AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

NEW FEATURES WHICH NOVEMBER VISITORS WILL SEE.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES) ST. LOUIS, Oct. 23.—Those who have visited the Louisiana Purchase Exposition several times have always seen multitudes of remarkable exhibits that had before captured their attention; for it is so vast that one might have spent every day from the beginning to the end in studying it without ever exhausting the opportunities for pleasure and profit that it affords. But not only does each successive visit acquaint one with things that have previously been overlooked, and increase one's appreciation of those already observed, but it also affords experiences not previously possible. Besides the permanent collections there is a constantly changing exhibit of those more delicate treasures that are attached to human personalities rather than to inanimate objects. Every month, every week and every day brings a new assemblage of notable personages—princes, savants, statesmen, artists, prima donnas, captains of industry and persons who have made their mark on the popular interest.

It sometimes seems as if everyone of whom one has ever heard is sure to be here met with, at one time or another. Now it is the crown prince of Spain, or the prince of the house of Orleans; now it is the greatest organist in the world; now it is Helen Keller, the most remarkable product of peculiar skill, now it is the wonderful Syrian-American pianist, Mary Hallock, the discoverer of the dependence of musical time upon the pulsations of the heart; now it is Jean Stryka, the prince of contemporary painters; and so on to the end of the chapter. The musical programmes at the Fair are of the highest quality. Festivals and numerous other places throughout the grounds would be sufficient in themselves to attract visitors from every part of the continent. The greatest organists, pianists, violinists and other musicians of the globe, and the crack orchestras of London, Paris, Berlin, Moscow, New York and other metropolitan cities, have all been devoting themselves, for long periods of time, to the entertainment of the Fairgoers. In like manner the armies of the world have been passing in review, as it were, before the eyes of the Fairgoers. The camps are always full, and there is not a day without its drills and parades, by regulars and militiamen, enrolled under various flags.

Those who come to St. Louis during the closing weeks of the Fair will, however, have very special advantages. Many of the best exhibits outside the main buildings have been installed within the past few days or weeks. Some of the most remarkable displays on the Midway, for example, like that of the Great Peck mine, were opened up only last month. The Bagbages, who in many respects the most interesting of all the Philippine tribes who have appeared at the Exposition, so that their entertainment of the public were quarantined during all the earlier months of the Exposition, and the installation of their priceless art-treasures has only recently been completed. The great solar engine is another recent addition, and there are others too numerous to mention.

During the past month or two, as for a short time earlier in the season, a captive balloon has been provided which gives an opportunity, not only for an experience new to many in itself, but also for a bird's-eye view of the Exposition grounds. The balloons, which have been given several times a week for some time past at one corner of the grounds, it is only just now that the spectacular displays around the Cascades and the great exhibition palaces is being begun, turning what was before a fairly tame scene of resplendent beauty.

In all the great world's fairs the visitors themselves are, on many occasions, the most attractive of all the exhibits. This has never been so true as it will be during the coming few weeks; for it has been announced that thousands of Chinese, Manchurians, Koreans and representatives of other and stranger peoples of the Orient will be on their way hither. Further Asia having just waked up to a full realization of what is going on here in the Midwestern Valley. The same will doubtless be true of many other kinds of foreigners, and there is every reason to believe that the attendance will be far more cosmopolitan and picturesque than that during any stage of any previous exposition ever held on American soil.

A special from Warsaw, N. Y., says the safe of James L. Blodgett at Hermitage was blown open today and from $5,000 to $20,000 stolen. Blodgett has conducted a private bank for the past four years.

SO SELFISH OF HIM.

He (telling himself): Say, Araminta, die here hobnobbing on the beach isn't it with golf?

She (reproachfully): Oh! Alex, how can you be so selfish? You know I don't play golf!
